

RTX Account Payable Transition

You are receiving this notification because our records indicate that you are using one or more of the email inboxes listed below for invoice submission to Collins Aerospace.

Beginning in late February, RTX will expand its existing strategic partnership with Transcepta to act as the initial supplier interface for accounts payable, invoice submissions. Transcepta is an industry leader in this field and their services are being used in other areas of the RTX business today. During the next several months, as we migrate away from the existing email inboxes, you will be contacted by Transcepta to assist you as a supplier in creating an account directly with Transcepta. Please do not create an account with Transcepta until you are notified to do so.

The email inboxes below will remain a viable means of submission until June 30, 2025. After this time, Transcepta will be the primary means of invoice submission.
