To help ensure maximum operation of the aircraft, Rockwell Collins is encouraging our customers to be proactive in planning their RTU updates. The replacement unit is the RTU-42X0 which features a Liquid Crystal Display (LCD) technology and is available today.

To help you upgrade the RTU, STCs are available for some platforms. Please contact your Rockwell Collins Authorized Dealer of choice to find out if an STC is available for your aircraft installation.

In addition, Rockwell Collins can assist operators in determining the proper RTU replacement unit; as a Rockwell Collins Authorized Dealer, reference the RTU 42X0 installation manual part number 523-0780424 to determine the replacement. As an owner, please consult your Rockwell Collins Authorized Dealer or contact your Rockwell Collins Regional Sales Manager/ Customer Support Engineer (CSE).
